Tara Fahey is a Minneapolis based artist. Lanterns, paper cuts, silk screen prints, puppetry, and fabric sculpture are their 25-year devotion. Through this work, you will find Nature and Spirit as entwined odes to wonder, honoring life cycles, and embodying mystery and elemental forces that shape and sustain us all. Observing Nature brings me out of myself and attunes me with the Earth, so is healing. Deepening my knowledge and relationship with plants, animals, and inter-relational connections is perpetually interesting, and making art brings me joy and challenge. More of my work can be found at tarafahey.com.